

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

March 26, 2026

Dear Eagle Nation:

It is with great exhilaration that I write to express my deepest gratitude to the Coppin State University community for an outstanding Middle States review. This rigorous process involved an in-depth self-study and a comprehensive review by peer evaluators who validate our high standards of excellence in integrity, student experiential learning, educational quality, fiscal responsibility, and leadership.

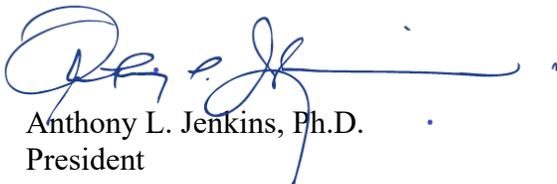

Our success was not the result of any single individual or department, rather it reflects a campus-wide effort, with faculty, staff, students, and administrators who worked tirelessly to bring this to fruition - especially the members of our Accreditation Steering Committee. Every voice mattered, and every contribution made a difference.

The dedication, professionalism, and collaborative spirit demonstrated throughout this process were exceptional, and I could not be prouder of what we achieved together, as One Coppin. More importantly, it highlights the collective impact of Coppin, the power of a community working together to advance opportunities, transform lives, and strengthen the future of Baltimore's hometown university.

As we move forward together, this achievement should serve as both proof and promise: proof of what we have accomplished and a promise of what is still ahead. We will carry this same energy and commitment into the future of Coppin State University.

Please note, as I receive updates from the Middle State Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE), I will keep the campus informed. Again, congratulations and thank you!

Sincerely,

Anthony L. Jenkins, Ph.D.
President
